GONE TO HIS REWARD.

Mr. Simco Dockery, who was the Wealthiest Citizen of Russell County, Dies in his Apartments, Jamestown.

Last Saturday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock, Mr. Simco Dockery, who was the wealthiest and most widely known man of Russell county, died in his apartments, Jamestown, after an illness of six months. He was born in Russell county, December, 29, 1841, and the end came October 3, 1914, making him seventy-two years, nine months and twenty-six days old.

When quite a young man he taught school and some years later he was elected sheriff of his county, making a diligent officer. Retiring from this position he commenced trading in land and was also a merchant up to the time of his death. Starting poor, he was ambitious to accumulate and was very successful throughout his life, leaving an estate estimated to be worth eighty to one hundred thousand dollars. He wrote his own will, and his entire possessions go to his nearest kin. He was never married, the children of his brother, Vincent Dockery, of Russell county, and one brother, who lives in the West, being his heirs.

To the Dockery children he gives his farms lying on Cumberland river, and to his brother he gives fifteen thousand dollars in bank stock, located in Louisville and Jamestown. The remainder of his estate is to be divided equally between the heirs. He directed, that his body be buried in a metallic casket, and he also named the spot of burial in the Jamestown cemetery by the side of a deceased friend, Judge Wm. Green. He provided that a monument to cost not less than $2,500 was to be erected to his memory, and he set aside $500 which is to be expended by the cashier of the Jamestown Bank in keeping his last resting place in good condition. He named Judge W. W. Jones and Attorney General James Garnett, of this place, executors of his will.

The instrument will be probated next Monday in the Russell county court, and the executors will at once commence to work up the estate.

The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon, a great many friends being present to pay tribute to one who had been a substantial and influential citizen of Russell county for more than a half century. At the time of his death he was President of the Bank of Jamestown and had been for many years.

The deceased was not identified with any religious body, but he often attended Church services. He was strictly an honorable man, and was ever ready to denounce lawlessness of every character. The services over the remains were conducted by Eld. Tobias Huffaker, of this place.

Miss Gertrude Bandy, only 7 years old, is a wonder. Hear her at the court-house Thursday night.

Dr. Luther Turk Dead.

The intelligence of the death of Dr. Luther Turk reached this place last Thursday afternoon. The end came in Gallion, Ala., Wednesday of that week.

The deceased was a son of Col. W. C. and Jane Turk, and was born and reared in Adair county, and was a very high type of man.

When quite a young man he commenced the study of medicine, entered the Louisville University, and in due course of time he graduated with honors.

Soon after his graduation he located in Gallion, Ala., where he married, and where for the last thirty years he was a leading physician of that city and surrounding country, accumulating a large estate. He was a man of wonderful influence and died at the age of fifty-six years. He left no children, but he is survived by his wife, mother and one sister, Mrs. H. C. Walker, of Bradfordsville, Ky.

He was said to have been a very kind man to the poor of his county, and he will be sorely missed by that class of people. He was devoted to his wife, mother and sister, and his passing was an irreparable loss to them.

May the God of love comfort them in their great sorrow.

LOST.

My pocket book containing two $1.00 bills and some small change, also several receipts. Reward. Bring to this office.

Notice to Teachers, Concerning Rally.

Programs for the rally have been mailed to each teacher in the county, giving full particulars, events and premiums for each event.

Events 17 and 18 on program, the "Best Made Gingham Apron," and the "Best Patch on Calico," must be hand work, and all the work done by school girl.

Event 20, "Best Embroidered Shirt Waist," it will only be necessary to have the front of shirt waist, (the part embroidered.) It will not be necessary to have the whole waist.

Event 21, "Best Crochet Collar," only the collar need be displayed.

Only one district is to contest from each Educational Division, except when otherwise specified on the programs sent out, or as follows:

1. Any district in the county may contest for the flags in events two and three on program.

2. Event 3, "Best Display of Work from any School, any school in the county may enter this contest at Columbia, regardless of whether they enter a display at their Division Rally. Any work exhibited in any other contest may be used in making up this Display or Exhibit.

Messrs. John F. Neat and Albin Murray have purchased the Murray Ball stock of goods, in the Owens' building, and will open a general dry goods store. The new firm will be in the city markets this week, purchasing goods and will be ready for the trade in a short time. Mr. Neat is an experienced merchant, Mr. Murray is a popular gentleman and has heretofore been a farmer.

Mr. J. B. Drye, a well-known traveling man, wants the merchants of Adair county to know that his wife has been sick and for that reason he failed to make his regular trip, but that he will be here at an early day.

For Sale.

Two horse power 5 passenger Case automobile in perfect condition. Cost $2,300.00. A real bargain.
P. O. Box 515, Lebanon, Ky.

The Parlor Circle was well patronized last Thursday and Saturday nights. The lights are stronger than heretofore, the pictures and the reading matter showing up to a good advantage.

A letter from J. H. Grissom, Powell, Neb., says: A large acreage of wheat has been sown and it is coming up nicely. No frost here yet. There is a fair crop of corn, and small grain is good.

Mr. W. F. Neat has sent to this office an Irish potato that will weigh eight ounces, the seed being planted the last of July from a potato of the earlier planting.

The advance in price of everything that affects the cost of publishing a paper leaves no room for a dollar loss in the subscription. We are compelled to receive pay for every paper or advance the subscription price to $1.50 per year, and more than likely will do both within a very short time. The News can not exist on promises to pay—it must receive what it earns. Thousands of dollars are justly due this office and to be plain we want what is due. Many statements have been mailed and but few have sent in the pay. THE TIME TO CLEAN UP HAS COME. If you fail to receive your paper you may know that you lose by not paying. It matters not how much money or property you have, or how good your credit is, we are compelled to collect and will begin the clearance of our books at once. If you have received a statement no other notice is necessary. Where the paper is discontinued we will expect every one to square on our books just the same, and if not done within a reasonable time will use the most effective agency for collection. This notice outlining the methods we are compelled to adopt should receive hearty response from every one who really desires The News. Justice and honesty should prompt every one to settle arrearage and not force us to use legal methods to get our just dues.
As foreign as it is from the policy of this office, as much as we dislike to inconvenience many who read the paper and promise to pay we can not continue longer to run on promises and hope. Take notice and act accordingly.

School Rally at Zion.

The Rally held by Division No. 3, at Zion, has been pronounced a great success. Most of the nineteen schools were well represented. The display and athletics were fine.

Four hundred and fifty people were present. Zion school won the highest number of first premiums; Glenville second highest; Tabor and Republican tied on third highest number of firsts, the latter having more seconds than the former; Concord, Pleasant Hill, and Rainfall tied on the fourth highest number of firsts. Mt. Zion, Simpson, Dunbar, and other schools deserve praise for good work rendered.

Superintendent Huffaker, also the President of our Division, Mr. G. W. Turner; the Secretary, Mr. Joe Calhoun, and the many patrons and teachers who rendered such great service, deserve the thanks of the Division. The patrons of this Division should feel proud of this our first attempt at a School Rally.

Prices on Coffee Reduced.

The gymnasium at the Columbia Graded and High School was well filled last Friday evening, to witness a basketball game, Montpelier against the High School team. The game was called promptly at 7:30 o'clock and it was exciting from the start, judging from the amount of cheering heard downtown. The contest closed, the score standing 21 to 13 in favor of the High School team.

Wanted.

Live minks $7.00; black skunks, $5.00. Write me for particulars, Jas. Weatherford, Bradfordsville, Ky.
49-4t.

A new brick Christian church is to be erected at Monticello. The bids are to be opened the 10th of this month. Mr. J. C. Miller, of this place, is one of the bidders, and he feels like he has a good chance to receive the contract.

Mr. A. G. Jones sold his grocery business at Campbellsville last week to C. R. Fleece and Clarence Hartfield, who immediately took possession. Mr. and Mrs. Jones will return to Burnside, their former home.

Mr. Allen Walker and family will occupy, for the present, rooms in the brick residence, known as the Reed property. Mr. Walker will be at Greensburg for several months, buying and selling tobacco.

I have pair mules, coming four years old, two brood and work mares, two horse colts and Jersey cow for sale. J. F. Montgomery, Columbia, Ky.
49-2t.

N. B. Kelsey bought a residence in the mill district, last week, from Stevenson & Sandusky for $600. It is known as the Will Barker residence. Possession will be given immediately.

Judge Carter opened court at Burkesville last Monday. The third Monday he will convene the Russell circuit court at Jamestown.

Notice.

All who are in need of a new wagon bed, or dressed lumber to make a new bed, call at J. M. Kearns' Machine Shop before you buy. Give him a call on any thing you need in the repair line.
49-3t. J. M. Kearns.

Gen. Garnett Looms Up.

The talk is again being revived that Attorney General James Garnett, who hails from Adair County, will most likely be an entrant in the State primary next year for the Democratic nomination for Governor. Gen. Garnett has all along been regarded as a probable starter in the gubernatorial stakes, but it is understood that lately strong pressure has been brought to bear on him to make a formal announcement and thereby put an end to the speculation on his prospective candidacy. To the political "sharps" Gen. Garnett is now displaying symptoms of one who is quietly nursing a gubernatorial boom.—W. S. K. in Louisville Times.

Mr. G. W. Lowe retired from the hotel business "the first of this month" and he was succeeded by Judge Junius Hancock, who, with his son, George, will continue the business. Mr. Lowe will continue to run the Parlor Circle and look after his other affairs here until he decides upon another location. It is hoped that he will see that it will be to his interest to remain in Columbia. He is a good citizen and our people would dislike to lose him and his excellent wife.

The co-operation meeting of the Christian Churches of Adair county, held last Saturday and Sunday, was largely attended. The published program was carried out and a number of good speeches and interesting reports were made. Eld. W. B. Taylor and Roy K. Roadruck were on the program and their speeches were of especial interest. Dinner on the ground for every body.

Mr. Murray Ball will continue to occupy apartments where he is now doing business—the Cravens building.

Splendid musical entertainment at court-house Thursday night.

Born, to the wife of George Abston, on October 1st, a son.

An Enjoyable Occasion.

Friday afternoon the members of the Faculty and Senior Class of Lindsey-Wilson put aside all cares and worries of the school room and enjoyed together a delightful picnic in the beautiful woodland just beyond the school grounds.

Besides the dainty lunch prepared before leaving, bacon was broiled and coffee boiled in real Gypsy fashion which added much to the enjoyment of all.

After lunch all sat around the glowing campfire until about 8 o'clock when they journeyed home in the light of the "hunters' moon," wishing that these good times might come more often.

The following members of the Faculty and Senior Class were present: Prof. Paul Chandler, Misses Hewitt, Chandler, Murrell, and Mrs. Moss; Misses Hogard, Workman, English, Chewing; Messrs. Duvall, Harris, Stevenson, Sullivan, and Hogard.

Work of the Grand Jury.

Notice M. W. A.

Monday night, Oct. 12, 1914, is our regular meeting night, and all Modern Woodmen in good standing, are earnestly requested to be present. The nights are pleasant and much longer and we want to get busy.

J. C. Strange, Clerk

In obedience to a proclamation issued by the President of the United States to all Christian people of the nation, the residents of Columbia met in the Methodist Church last Sunday evening and offered prayers for peace in Europe. Fervent talks were also made by Judge H. C. Baker, Revs. O. P. Bush, and J. S. Chandler.

The new Baptist Church, this place, will be dedicated the fourth Sunday in this month. Either Dr. Powell, of Louisville, or Dr. J. W. Porter, of Lexington, will preach the sermon.

Rev. Marvin Perryman will preach at Hutchison school-house next Sunday forenoon at 10:30. He will also preach in the afternoon at 2:30 at Rocky Hill.

Judge Hurt Tells Good Story.

In his speech at Somerset Monday, Judge Rollin Hurt, of Adair county, Democratic nominee for Judge of the Court of Appeals, in the Third Appellate district, referring to the innovation of opening a Democratic campaign in that stronghold of Republicanism told a good story to convey a point. He said that just prior to the Civil War when the Democrats were in power nationally, in a certain community in that mountain section one man took a newspaper and when it arrived each week his neighbors would gather about him to hear it read. The paper was opposed to the Democrats and in one issue he read where the Democratic Congress had enacted a law adding two more winter months to the year. This, of course, met with the utmost disapproval of the crowd which indorsed the protest of the spokesman who declared, "We have already used up all our fodder and we will never vote for a party that is responsible for adding any more winter months to the year."—Louisville Times.

A Suggestion.

It is a well-known fact that there is an abundance of wheat in Adair county, plenty to supply home consumption. It is also a fact that the local mills do not make flour sufficient to meet the demands of the local market, but at this time there is no reason why the local mills should not furnish the flour for the entire county. We feel sure that the grocersmen of Columbia would patronize the local manufacturers if they will meet all demands, and at the same prices that is regulating flour at foreign mills. So, as a suggestion we would say for the farmers, who have wheat for sale, the millers and the grocersmen, get together, and less keep the money at home that is paid elsewhere for flour. The farmers need the money for their wheat, and certainly the local millers want the horse trade. Talk the matter over, those who are mostly interested, and see if a right conclusion can not be reached.

Road Meeting.

Judge Geo. Herfford has set next Friday, the 9th of this month, as Road Day for the people of Adair county. The meeting will be held at the court-house. At 10 o'clock in the afternoon, Robert E. Woods, Secretary of the Kentucky Good Roads Association, will address the meeting. He is thoroughly posted on all phases of road building, and it is desired that all citizens of Columbia, as well as those living out of town, be present. The business men of the town and county are especially invited.

Judge Herfford requests every citizen of Adair county who is interested in better roads to put in an appearance. The farmers need better roads, traveling public need better roads and the business men need better roads. Come in and less devise a way to secure them.

Coming Friday Evening.

Mr. Geo. R. Atkins and his band of musicians will treat the residents of Columbia to a musical at the Court-houses next Friday evening. No charge will be made by the musicians, but they will expect to be entertained for the night. Those who have heard this troupe say it makes most enchanting music. Our people will have to move an organ to the court-room for the occasion. Do not fail to be present, as it will certainly be an evening of entertainment.

The ladies of Columbia and vicinity swarmed at the two millinery establishments last Tuesday night and during the day Wednesday. The exterior of the buildings presented a most handsome appearance, hundreds of artistically trimmed hats being on display. A general opening gives the ladies a better opportunity to select, as they see hats trimmed in different colors and also in different shapes, hence when they visit the stores to make a purchase their minds are already made up as to the style hat. Both stores start with flattering prospects during the fall season, experienced milliners being at each store.

The revival meeting at the Christian Church will begin on Monday night after the third Sunday in October instead of the fourth Sunday as announced in last week's issue.

Twelve or fifteen mule colts were sold on the square Monday at prices ranging from $52.00 to $90.00.

Remember and be at the Court-house next Friday evening.

- 1 School pupils taking part in the contests must be in school age and must have entered school by August 24 and have been in regular attendance since that time.
- 2 The regular rules governing all athletic events will be used on this occasion.
- 3 The first winner in each event counts three points, the second two and the third one, in deciding which Educational Division and sub-district has won the greatest number of points; though no second and third prizes are offered.
- 4 No admission will be charged for entrance to the Fair grounds or to the addresses of the day or evening. Everything is free.
- 5 The Fair Association has given all stand privileges to the two Columbia schools.
- 6 The judges for the various events are to be selected by Profs. Moss & Wilson from the town of Columbia, and from the faculty and pupils of the two schools. The decisions of these judges are final.
- 7 We urge that every rural teacher drill their children at school to march in the order that they wish them to march at the county rally, at Columbia. Train children to march in line and pay strict attention to orders.
- 8 The district winning first school pennant, given by Russell & Co., will march in front, the School winning second pennant given by W. I. Ingram will have second place in line of march. Other rural schools will occupy any convenient position in line of march. The Columbia Schools will march in the rear.
- 9 Let teachers from each district report the number of students and patrons present from their sub-district, and the number of miles from school house to Columbia, by 9:30 Friday morning of the rally, at the County Superintendents office. We urge the rural teachers to be exact in reporting the mileage and number present from their sub-district.
- 10 Only school pupils are wanted in the line of march.
- 11 Place of delivering premiums will be announced on the morning of the Rally.
- 12 Contentants in Domestic Science and Manual Training must present specimens of work made by contestants.
- 13 The President and Secretary of the "Rally Committee" desire to express to the Adair County News their thanks for these posters (which are donated by the News) and their co-operation in advertising the Rally through the columns of the News.

PUBLIC SPEAKING: We hope to have with us on this occasion some of the States greatest Educators, who will make addresses.

An Aggressive Policy.

The demand of the British people that the aggressive be taken by their fleet because of the destruction of three British cruisers by German submarines is in small danger of being complied with. One reason therefor is that the Germans would ask nothing better. They have withdrawn their fleet into a fortified harbor on the North Sea from which the Kiel Canal leads to another fortified harbor on the Baltic. The approach to both is served with mines. The German fleet is thus in a position to say to both the English and the Russians thus far and no farther. The German fleet has been preserved in being and the English must perforce stand guard unless England's naval supremacy is to be put to a test which may destroy it before it so much as comes in contact with the full of the enemy.

The strategy so far pursued by Admiral Jellicoe has been to keep the German men-of-war bottled up, while English cruisers have swept the sea for German merchantmen. In the two encounters that have occurred the English suffered but little if any of the worst of it. They have lost three obsolete cruisers and some 2,000 men from a submarine attack, but the Germans suffered no less heavily when the squadron under Admiral Beatty tolled five of their cruisers out to sea to be sunk under the guns of battleships. On the whole honors are easy in this regard and England has retained the essential advantage of being able to land its troops at will in Belgium or France, to protect its own ships of commerce and to harass those of the enemy.

It is annoying, of course, to discover that British cruisers are not immune against submarine attack. It might be more costly to make a wholesale experiment of their ability to withstand mines.

It would seem that what is sauce for the goose might be served on the gander. The British submarines are supposedly greater in numbers and superior efficiency than those of the Germans. In the matter of aerial craft, both sides are well equipped. So far, however, if any offensive use has been made of airships it has not escaped the censor.

Before the war was thought of outside of the chancellories, a British Admiral asserted that the dreadnought and the superdreadnought were so much wasted steel and armament. On the open sea or in the land-locked harbor, he declared that not one of them would be safe. The Germans have demonstrated that this theory will work on a small scale. What is to prevent its being tried out by the British? It would seem to be a less hazardous experiment than the "aggressive policy" which the British public demands.--Louisville Times.

Apply Sloan's Freely for Lumbago.

Your attacks of Lumbago are not nearly so hopeless as they seem. You can relieve them almost instantly by a simple application of Sloan's Liniment on the back and loins. Lumbago is a form of rheumatism, and yields perfectly to Sloan's, which penetrates quickly all in through the sore, tender muscles, lumber up the back and makes it feel fine. Get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment for 25 cents of any druggist and have it in the house--against colds, sore and swollen joints, rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica and like ailments. Your money back if not satisfied, but it does give almost instant relief. Sold by Paull Drug Co. Ad

Why They Go.

Someone has well said that the reason why so many boys and girls are leaving the farm is because they are in a large measure ignorant of the possibilities of the life they are leaving and the life to which they are going. It would appear on reflection that agricultural education, considered in its border aspects, could hardly have a more useful or more worthy object than making very clear to the minds of boys and girls in rural communities the real facts as well as possibilities of both city and country life. Such education ought to set forth the dignity and worth of agriculture and its allied lines, and to make clear that while there are opportunities in the city, they are by no means what they seem to be at distance and seldom give one an opportunity to acquire a position of independence.

Your Fall Cold Needs Attention.

No use to fuss and try to wear it out. It will wear you out instead. Take Dr. King's New Discovery, relief follows quickly. It checks your Cold and Soothes your Cough away. Pleasant, Antiseptic and Healing. Children like it. Get a 50c. bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and keep it in the house. "Our family Cough and Cold Doctor" writes Lewis Chamberlain, Manchester, Ohio. Money back if not satisfied, but it nearly always helps. Sold by Paul Drug Co. Ad

It is as much a duty of the country pastor to exhort us to own a home while on earth as it is to inspire us to build a mansion in the skies.

Enzootic Ophthalmia.

The Experiment Station has been repeatedly called upon to answer inquiries concerning an outbreak of contagious ophthalmia which is at present prevalent over the entire State of Kentucky. This condition is sometimes known as "pink eye," and attacks in rapid succession a large portion of the herd. It is distinctly a contagious disease and may originate by the purchase of a new animal which is already affected, and from that animal it may be spread to all the remaining cattle in the herd. The condition is more prevalent in the hot summer months, especially during a period of drought similar to the one experienced throughout the entire State this summer.

Symptoms. The condition is usually first noticed by a profuse discharge of tears from both eyes, which constantly keeps both sides of the face moist. The eye-lids are swollen, painful to pressure, and invariably closed, especially so in intense sunlight. These symptoms are usually accompanied by a slight elevation in temperature, loss of appetite and a diminution in the flow of milk. If the condition is left to go untreated the discharge from the eyes assumes a purulent form usually accompanied by a slight cloudiness of the cornea.

Treatment. Affected animals should be isolated in a cool, dark portion of the barn and given from one to one and one-half pounds Glauber's salts as a cathartic and one tablespoonful potassium nitrate added to each six gallons of drinking water. In addition, the eye symptoms are best treated by washing the eyes out twice each day with a four per cent solution of boric acid, but this may be substituted by a 1 to 100 solution of silver nitrate once a day. In severe cases where the lesions of the cornea are present this latter treatment is to be preferred.

Prevention. Whenever this condition appears in the herd the healthy animals should be immediately removed to a new pasture, given a laxative diet and provided with fresh drinking water.

Contagious Ophthalmia is usually not a severe disease when properly treated and the above recommendations, if properly applied, should soon bring the outbreak to a close.

Democratic Platform.

We declare our faith in the wisdom and patriotism of Woodrow Wilson and pledge him our support in discharging the grave duties and solving the complex problems imposed upon him by the high office to which he was called by the people.

With singular fortitude and patience our President has stayed the impulsive spirit of war and translated for all mankind the meaning of a Republic intent on liberty and peace. In dealing with the painful problems of the stricken Republic of Mexico he has won and deserves the unstinted approval of his fellow-countrymen.

We indorse the Democratic administration of the affairs of the Federal government, an administration cleaving to the line of party progress and keenly sensitive to the settled will of the country.--New York Democratic Declaration.

Memoirs of Napoleon

In Three Volumes

The personal reminiscences of Baron de Méneval, for thirteen years private secretary to Napoleon Bonaparte, bring out, as no history can, many enlightening and interesting side lights on the character of that greatest of leaders. De Méneval's descriptions have the piquancy and interest possible only because he was an actual eyewitness of the scenes and incidents of which he writes. Their reliability and historical interest can be judged by the fact that the very conservative French Academy publicly recommends them.

We Have a President.

We like to feel that Woodrow Wilson expresses in his own personality the good genius of this country. The President's service to the nation within the past few months has been sufficient to make an entire four-year term notable.

War with Mexico has been averted through patient statecraft that persisted despite criticism, abuse and lack of faith.

A strike of trainmen on ninety eight Western railroads has been prevented by the agreement of of the contending parties to arbitrate. This strike would have been a catastrophe at any time; in view of other complications, it would have been immeasurably worse at this time. Credit must be given to the men and the managers for agreeing to get together, but this was not brought about until the President had entered the negotiations.

The placing of American business conditions upon a basis where the European disorders can affect them little if at all was at the instance of and with the co-operation of the administration, which is also to be credited with fathering a currency law that will prove most efficient in the present situation.

In the last three or four months it would have been distressingly easy for a Presidential blunderer to embroil or embarrass the United States. We have come through with credit and clean of unworthy compromises or entangling alliances.

Thank God we have a President.—Minneapolis News, (Ind.)

Horses for War Purposes.

All the countries in the world are being called upon for horses for service in the campaigns of Europe.

The Cossacks of Russia have an unlimited supply in the country from the Niemen to the plains of Turkestan.

It is estimated that fully 20,000,000 of horses, small but hardy are at the command of the cavalry forces of the Czar.

The horses available for the transport, the ammunition and the artillery service of the Russians, which require larger animals, are not so numerous, but these needs can be provided for in a degree by the use of greater numbers of the smaller types.

Sir John French, in his official report of the operations of the expeditionary force, tells of his calling upon General Sordot, of the French Cavalry Division, for support in his retreat, and that Sordot was unable to come to his assistance by reason of the utter weariness of the cavalry mounts.

As the report was only up to September 1, it can be placed as a certainty that the two weeks of most active operations since then have reduced the efficiency of the British and French cavalry still further by reason of the killing or exhaustion of their streets.

The artillery service in each of the contending armies has lost thousands of trained horses during the battles and the marches, and the call is for other thousands to take their places.

A German officer in a recent interview is quoted as stating that the cavalry forces of the Kaiser have lost two-thirds of the horses with which they opened the campaign, many killed in action, many captured by the enemy, still abandoned on the marches through inability to go farther by reason of the constant hard riding of the Uhlans, the dragoons and the cuirassiers,

The British Government is buying thousands of horses in Canada and in the United States to be shipped to Canada and from thence to Europe, and serviceable cavalry or draft horses in this country are now bringing much higher prices than a year ago.

Six months of war in Europe will draw from the United States every serviceable horse that can be spared from this country if high prices will induce their owners to sell.

Rueer Pets.

The stir caused in London recently by the pet pig escorting an American lady recalls other instances where pigs have played the role of faithful companions.

In Persia, although the law forbids, pigs are cherished, not at butcher's meat, but as companions. Some years ago the British consul there had a pet pig which attended him when shooting, "pointed" the birds, and then retrieved them. The careless servants could not be trusted to keep it indoors, and it tracked its master by scent.

Sir Walter Scott had a fondness for pigs, and Lockhart tells a story much like the above.

Lord Gardenstone, an eminent Scott judge, had a great regard for pigs. One slept in his bed at night until it became unwieldy, then it slept upon his clothes, arranged on the floor for its convenience.

Sir William Jones had a fancy for tortoises. It is recorded by a friend of the great man that after dinner he would suddenly shout, in a loud voice, "Othello!" and a very large turtle responded, crawling from the next room. It usually made its way to Sir William's chair and remained, he feeding it with food especially to its liking.

One of the strangest instances where a strange freak pet was allowed unusual freedom happened at Liverpool some years ago, when a gentleman walked up from the docks with a lion in attendance. As he pointed out to the magistrate, it was evidently an amiable creature, for it did not resent the arrest of its master. The court, however, thought otherwise, and steps were taken to avoid a recurrence.

Staying on The Job.

"America is greater than any party * * * Parties will fare well enough without nursing if the men who make them up and the men who lead them forget themselves to serve a cause and set a great people forward on the path of liberty and peace."

This is the spirit that breathes throughout President Wilson's letter to Congressman Doremus, in which he tells why he must decline to engage actively in the Democratic campaign this year. It is the spirit of patriotic service, of service to the whole people, so strongly exemplified by the President throughout his official career. It is the spirit which declared that that party serves itself best that serves the country best and which forgets self interest in working for the common good.

The President, in his own homely language, will "stay on the job." His job, as he sees it, is to stay in Washington and face the serious responsibilities that the war abroad has placed upon those who have been chosen by the American people to administer their government, to advance their prosperity and to preserve for them the blessings of peace. The nation has suddenly been confronted with new problems, in which questions of party have no place. These problems must be met wisely, unselfishly and in all harmony, with full confidence that the people will justly appraise the work of their servants.

"This is a time when America expects every man to do his duty without thought of profit or advantage to himself." Here is a broad hint to those members of Congress who have been too busy seeking re-election to attend to their public duties, who have been more solicitous for their own advantage than for the public welfare. The people will not forget to reward those of their Representatives who stay with Wilson "on the job" at Washington, nor will they fail to remember those who have deserted their posts to advance their own interests. From this time on it will pay every Congressman to "stay on the job." President Wilson's letter is worth more to his party than a thousand campaign speeches.—Newark News.

It seems quite clear that the average Republican politician is either hog-tied to doctrine and argument some five years obsolete, or lacks either doctrine or argument of any kind whatsoever. Many of them have opposed the administration's war emergency measure. Yet for their part, what has been proposed? Not a blessed thing?

PEPPERY COMPOSERS.

Masters of Music Who Had Nice Temperaments of Their Own.

Even in the presence of his royal pupils Handel would sometimes fly into most violent passions.

"You forget yourself, Mr. Handel," a court attendant said reprovingly on one such occasion. "You should show more respect to her royal highness!"

"Royal highness!" snorted the musician contemptuously. "Bab! De respect is due to me! There are many princesses, but only one Handel!"

On another occasion, when George L. sent a message summoning him to an interview, he returned this answer: "Dell his bejesty he bust wald. Ege tibe is bore imbordant dan his!"

Viotti, the famous French musician of the eighteenth century, had an equal contempt for royalty and an exaggerated opinion of himself, as the following story shows: One day he was summoned to Versailles to play before Marie Antoinette and the court. The performance had begun; the opening bars of his favorite solo commanded breathless attention, when a cry was heard:

"Place for Mgr. the Comte d'Artois!" At the sound Viotti immediately ceased playing, cast an indignant glance at his audience, placed his violin under his arm and walked out of the place.

When Marie Antoinette once inquired of Gluck how his new opera was progressing he answered, "Madame, it is nearly finished, and I assure you it will be superb," a conceit which was rivaled by that of Meyerbeer, who, when a friend declared that if anything better could be composed than one of his rival operas he would dance on his head, answered, "If that is so I should advise you to start practicing at once, for I have just commenced the fourth act of 'The Huguenots'."

Even Haydn, usually the most modest of men, showed at times that he had as good an opinion of his own merits as any of his admirers. On one occasion, when a friend said to him of his "Salomon" symphony: "Sir, I am strongly of opinion that you will never surpass these wonderful symphonies," he answered placidly: "No; I never mean to attempt the impossible!"

CURIOUS CARD TRICK.

It Deals With Odd Numbers, and the Explanation is a Mystery.

There is a puzzle which may be performed with any odd number of objects, playing cards being usually employed, and which any one can do, but no one seems able to explain the reason for it. Let us suppose the number selected to be twenty-seven cards, although fifteen or twenty-one would do just as well.

After having them shuffled hold them in the left hand face upward and then deal them face upward one at a time in three piles so that the fourth card comes on the first and the fifth on the top of the second and so on until you have three piles of nine cards each.

Request any person who is watching you to make a silent note of any card he pleases, and when you have finished dealing to tell you in which pile the card lies. By picking up the three piles again one at a time as before, the noted card will reappear. Ask in which pile it came that time and place that pile in the middle as before.

Upon dealing the cards into three piles for the third time note carefully the card that comes in the middle of each pile. With twenty-seven there will be nine in each pile and the fifth will be the middle card. Now, when the person who selected the card names the pile in which his card comes you will know it was the middle card of that pile. With this knowledge in your possession you can finish the trick in any manner you please.

This is only a statement of results, but what is the explanation or reason for it? What is the rule that makes it always come out right, regardless of the number of objects used, so that it is odd?—New York Sun.

Where the Fault Lay.

A newspaper man tells of a friend who edited, with more or less success, a paper in a small town. That he was somewhat discouraged by the lack of interest shown in his journal was evidenced by this notice which one afternoon appeared on the editorial page:

"Burglars entered our house last night. To the everlasting shame of the community for whose welfare we have labored, be it said, they got nothing."—Harper's Magazine.

Bewildered Him.

"I say, Weegie, I'm in an awful mess. Miss Smart means to sue me for 'breath of promise' or something, how'd like that?"

"Well,?"

"Yaas. I said I was awfully sorry, not to ask her to marry me, out dadd would cut me off if I did, and all she said was, 'You needn't imagine I'm the kind of a girl that accepts an apology for a man.'"

—New York Tribune.

Athletic Vocalization.

"Is a ventriloquist a person who throws his voice?" asked Mr. Lobrow.

"So to speak."

"Well, we've got one next door to us. She hasn't thrown it yet, but she is giving it a terrible struggle."—Washington Star.

The Wilson administration does not cross streams before it comes to them; but when it does come to them it does cross them.

All that President Wilson had to mobilize was the good common sense of the American people, which he succeeded in doing.

This is for bridge players, as well as Republicans: Rubbers are seldom won with nullo bids. The trick-taking policy has decided advantages.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For U. S. Senator—Long Term—
HON. J. C. W. BECKHAM, of Franklin County.

For U. S. Senator—Short Term—
HON. J. N. CAMDEN, of Woodford County.

For Congress—
HON. HARVEY HELM, of Lincoln County.

For Judge Court of Appeals—
HON. ROLLIN HURT,
of Adair County.

Former Governor A. E. Wilson, Republican candidate for United States Senator, and Judge James Denton, Republican candidate for Appellate Judge in this the Third district, filled appointments at this place last Tuesday. Judge Denton spoke first, being introduced by Judge H. C. Baker. He wants to be elected to the Appellate bench, and urged his Republican friends to stand by him in the contest, and to not support Judge Hurt because he is a local man. It was a Republican speech throughout, but delivered in a very gentlemanly manner. He was followed by Gov. Willson, who was introduced by Judge W. W. Jones. The speaker was loud in his praises of the many achievements brought about by his party, and he did not think the Democratic party was doing anything to advance the interest of this country. He paid the lamented W. O. Bradley a great compliment, saying that he did not have an equal in his life time among the leading men of the nation. He defended his own administration as Governor of Kentucky, and pinched the Democrats, charging corruption, extravagance, etc. There were between 250 and 300 persons who heard the speeches and they were about equally divided politically. There was but little enthusiasm, and the voters of Adair stand just like they did before the speakers came.

A dispatch from Barbourville says that John A. Creech, Progressive candidate for Congress in the Eleventh district, and Nat B. Sewell, of Laurel county, Democratic candidate for Congress, same district, have both withdrawn from the race in favor of former Congressman John H. Wilson, of Barbourville, whose name goes upon the ballot by petition, as an independent candidate.

Rollin Hurt is a countyman and Adair should give him a tremendous majority.

Dr. C. F. Crecelius, Secretary of State, in farming out offices failed to cover his tracks. Several weeks ago he caused a stir by charging that Thomas S. Byars, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, was embezzling funds that belonged to the State. Byars denied the accusation and the Franklin county grand jury took up the matter. As a result of the investigation, Byars was exonerated, and Crecelius indicted on three counts. The Attorney General was called upon to institute proceedings against Crecelius, and it is likely he will be removed from office.

The Democrats over the State will be busy from now until the election. Every Democrat should take an interest and do his part in getting out a full vote.

Twenty-six days until the November election.

ROOSEVELT COMING

The Kentucky Republicans are reckoning without their host if they are going to rely on Theodore Roosevelt keeping quiet in this Campaign. Governor Willson, who aspires to succeed the late Senator, W. O. Bradley, has pretended to be a great friend and admirer of President Roosevelt, but in the last National Campaign he cast his fortune with Taft and went down in defeat with him.

Willson has no faith in the Progressive cause, subscribes to none of its principles, believes that it tends to Socialism, and has done everything in his power in the past to defeat its candidates. Now that he again seeks high office, he has only honeyed words for the Progressives and he is urging them to come back again to the waiting arms of the Republican party and forget all past differences. When the support of Governor Willson might have elected a Progressive Congressman from the Louisville District, he made speeches for Taft and the Republican nominee for Congress, and as a consequence the Democrats carried the district. Progressives have not forgotten Willson's attacks upon them and they will support their own candidate—Burton Vance, this Fall, instead of listening to Willson's wheedling words.

The Republican Committee that called on President Roosevelt at Indianapolis, where, by the way, he had a most enthusiastic representation, received the good news from him that he will make several speeches in Kentucky this Fall for the Progressive nominees for the Senate and Congress. His active entrance in the campaign will bring out the Progressive vote, and with the thorough organization that they are making, it seems probable that the Progressive candidate, Burton Vance will receive more votes than Willson, the Republican candidate for the Senate. The Progressives have cast more than 25,000 votes in the Louisville District alone and they hope this year to exceed that figure.

There is no discounting the popularity of Theodore Roosevelt in Kentucky and people of all parties admire his ability and respect his courage. He is as much in earnest in this fight as he was in the Presidential contest. He has already spoken in Kansas, Indiana and Illinois and will later make a thorough canvass of New York State. With Theodore Roosevelt in the saddle, the Progressive party is very much alive, not only in Kentucky, but all over the nation.

WILSON ENDORSES BECKHAM AND CAMDEN.

President Woodrow Wilson considered the Maine election so important in its relation to National Politics that at his personal request Senator Ollie James made a number of speeches in that State. Congressman Barkley of Kentucky was also on the stump in Maine and a number of other powerful friends of the administration lent their efforts to promoting the Democratic cause. The success of the Democratic ticket in Maine was most gratifying to President Wilson, as it was to Democrats everywhere. There is an old saying, "That as Maine goes, so goes the Union," and it is certain as anything can be in politics, that as Maine has gone this year, so will the whole Union go this year—overwhelmingly Democratic.

President Wilson is as much interested in the election of two Democratic Senators in Kentucky this year as he was in the Maine election. At the meeting of the Democratic State Central and Executive Committees at Louisville recently, a telegram was received by Senator James from President Wilson urging the election of Beckham and Camden to the Senate. It is absolutely necessary that the Democratic vote in the Senate be strengthened and that the work of the administration be upheld. The loss of a Democratic Senator at this time would be disastrous to the Democratic party, and realizing the gravity of the national situation the President is taking a personal interest in the Kentucky Campaign this fall.

He has said to his friends that he would be glad to make a speech in Kentucky for the ticket, but on account of the International complications, he has decided not to make any public addresses at this time. A little later, however, he will issue several statements, setting forth the work done by the Democratic administration and appealing to the people of the whole country, to support him and his party in the patriotic work they are performing.

Gov. Beckham and Senator Camden, stand shoulder to shoulder with the President on all public questions. Senator James, has done a giant's work in fighting the President's battles in the Senate, and has had excellent support from Senator Camden. When Senator Camden's term expires, Governor Beckham will be ready to co-operate with the President in solving those great problems that now confront the party and the nation.

Every Democrat in Kentucky should go to the polls in November and cast his vote for Governor Beckham and Senator Camden, and thus endorse that great Statesman and patriot, Woodrow Wilson.

THE ISSUE IN KENTUCKY.

In his opening speech at Somerset, Governor Beckham said:

"The chief issue in this campaign is whether or not the people of Kentucky endorse the work and policies of President Wilson's administration, and whether they wish to add or to obstruct its further service and progress. In the election of the two United States Senators, one for the short-term, and the other for the long-term, and in the election of Representatives in the lower House of Congress, on November 3rd., you are given the opportunity of expressing your approval or disapproval of that administration, and also of determining whether Kentucky's votes in the two Houses of Congress shall uphold and assist the President during the remainder of his term, or shall be used to oppose and embarrass him in all of his important undertakings. If you approve and endorse his administration and desire to give your assistance to the great work in which it is engaged, then you should support the Democratic candidates for the Senate and for the lower House of Congress; for in that way alone, at this time, can you express your approval of it, or give any aid and encouragement to it."

Governor Beckham is right. The importance of this Campaign from a National standpoint cannot be over-estimated. It involves the election of two Democratic United States Senators whose votes are needed in the Senate to support the policies of President Wilson. The election of two Republican Senators would be calamitous, to the party in this State, and a rebuke to the President at this crucial period when he needs the hearty support of every loyal patriotic Democrat in this nation.

President Wilson is showing a personal interest in the election of Governor Beckham and Senator Camden. He has urged Senator James and the Democratic Members of Congress to do everything in their power to bring about a Democratic victory in Kentucky this Fall, and he has likewise appealed to every friend he has in Kentucky. If President Wilson could make an address in this State, it would prove of great value to the party in this contest, but official duties detain him at Washington and grave National and International questions engage his whole attention. Later in the Campaign, he will make a written personal appeal to the voters of Kentucky, to stand by the Democratic Nominees.

Notice to Slave Men.

We will resume buying slaves on our yard Sept. 3, 1914. Slight change in prices Elrod & Co.

The Adair circuit court adjourned last Friday morning. There were forty-eight indictments returned which are classified in this issue of The News.

Public Sale.

If not sold privately before date of sale, I will sell publicly on October 13, 1914.

On my farm No. 1, one mile south-east of Campbellsville, all of the following described property:

Farm 115 2-3 acres situated just outside the city limits of Campbellsville near Elkhorn pike. This farm has on it a new 8 room dwelling, which has never been occupied, with all modern equipments, two new barns, stock and tobacco, limestone land mostly in grass and in a high state of cultivation. Considering location and new buildings this is a rare opportunity for anyone desiring a nice home.

Farm No. 2, located seven miles north of Campbellsville, and one mile north of Saloma, on Big Pitman creek, containing about 115 acres 42-3 acres of which is bottom land as good as the best, the remainder good upland, mostly in grass. On this farm there is a good six-room dwelling, tenant house, large barn, nice concrete cellar and other necessary outbuildings. There is an abundant supply of never-failing water, plenty of farm timber and only one mile from two schools two churches and four stores, and having free delivery of mail at your door. A nice place to live and a good place to make money.

Farm No. 3, located almost adjoining Farm No. 2, and containing sixty acres, in two tracts—14 and 46 acres, that almost join. This is good productive land, and has on it fair dwelling, large barn and other outbuildings. Six-room bungalow and all necessary outbuildings, comparatively new located only a few blocks from Russell Creek Baptist Academy.

Desirable business lot located at the junction of the Elkhorn Pike and L. & N. Railroad. Has on it good six-room dwelling, blacksmith shop and necessary outbuildings.

HORSES AND MULES.

One extra family and brood mare, one farm and brood mare, and I three-year-old gelding, well broken everywhere, and used to automobile; one five-year-old saddle and harness gelding, a good one. One pair work mules, 15-3-4 hands high, ages 6 and 9 years, 3 three-year-old mules, 2 two-year-old mare mules, good ones; one yearling and one colt.

EIGHTEEN HEAD CATTLE.

Consisting of steers, heifers, cows and calves and one yearling Hereford Bull. A nice lot of full stock Duroc Hogs, consisting of sows, pigs, Gilts and boars. Also baled hay, straw, farm tools, wagons and buggy.

ADVANTAGES.

This property is located in and near Campbellsville, which is a very prosperous town of good people, noted for money, factories, schools and churches.

Besides a good public school the Presbyterians have a good private school. The Russell Creek Baptist Academy is located here—a good school that bids fair to grow into a great college. The administration is raising a $100,000 endowment fund and plans to purchase a large farm where boys can earn their way and learn scientific agriculture at the same time.

Real estate will begin to sell promptly at 11 a. m. Terms on real estate 1-3 cash, remainder on easy payments.

Terms on personal property, under $10.00 cash in hand, over $10.00 twelve months note, negotiable and payable in bank bearing 6 per cent interest. No property will be removed until terms have been complied with.

Sale begins promptly at 10 o'clock. Anyone desiring to look over this property write me at Lebanon and I will meet you on property you desire to look at and show you.

L. Abell Collins.

Do Not Delay.

For a short time we will furnish The Adair County News one year, The Cincinnati Weekly Enquirer, one year, Farm and Fireside, Semi-monthly, one year, Boys' Magazine, monthly, one year, Household Journal and Floral Life, monthly, one year, for $1.75. Call at this office and subscribe or mail us a check or money order and the entire lot will come to you for $1.75.

For Sale.

I have two small farms of about sixty acres each, on the waters of Sulphur, three and one-half miles east of Columbia. Cheap residences on each. Also four residences in Columbia. Will sell on easy terms.

Editor News:

As your paper is a welcome visitor to our home, it does me good to look over the columns of my home paper. I am sorry to notice so many deaths in the paper. I am glad to know that old Kentucky is blessed with a good crop of corn. We have fine corn through our section of the country, but the northern and southern part of the state hasn't such good crops. Well, I will give you some prices of the things here. The German war has put the prices of things up higher. Wheat is 93c per bu. Corn runs from 76c to 80c per bu. Oats are 44c per bu. Flour is $4.00 per hundred. 25 lbs of sugar for $2.00. Potatoes $1.50 per bu. Meat 25c and 30c per lb. We have 200 acres of corn on this farm. Will average from 50 to 75 bu. per acre and is about ready for husking and the farmers are wishing for the Kentucky boys to come and husk corn for them. This is a fine farming country, but still it don't compare with old Kentucky in some things.

I have been in this state four years and I haven't hardly met a man that doesn't swear, that was born here. It is one of the most wicked places that I was ever in. All they care for is the dollar and riding in an automobile. The 24th of September, I visited the State Fair, at Springfield, and I saw most everything that a man could see. I saw one of the finest bunch of hogs I ever saw and among them I saw the pretty ones of Lexington, Ky. The hog department is a quarter of a mile long. I also visited Lincoln monument. It was the most beautiful sight I ever witnessed, and I also visited Lincoln's home and saw lots of things that he owned when a young man. I also saw a letter that Washington wrote dated 150 years ago. Well, I will ring off. If this escapes the waste basket, I will come again. With the best regard to The Adair County News and its many readers.

ATTENTION

Farmers and Timbermen!!

Until further notice, we will pay the following prices for SPLIT HICKORY and OAK SPOKES, delivered on our yard at Columbia, Adair Co., Ky.

Split Hickory Spokes 30 in. Long.

Price Per M. Pieces

| On Heart | Depth | Length | A & B | C | D |
|------------|----------|--------|---------|---------|---------|
| 1 1/2 in x | 1 1/2 in | 26 in | $12.00 | $ 6.00 | $ 6.00 |
| 1 3/4 in x | 2 in | 30 in | 15.00 | 8.00 | 6.00 |
| 1 3/4 in x | 2 in | 26 in | 14.00 | 7.00 | 5.00 |
| 2 1/4 in x | 2 1/2 in | 26 in | 25.00 | 12.00 | 8.00 |

All Spokes must be split from good live, straight grained, Black or Shell Bark Hickory. Spokes that are brash, also containing defects such as worm holes, knots, bird pecks, wind shakes, sun checks, short crooks will be classed as culls.

All spokes too small for 1 1/2 x 1 1/2 x 26 in. long will be classed at the price of "C" grade of this size or culled.

Split 2nd. Growth W. Oak Spokes 30 in. Long.

Price Per M. Pieces.

| On Heart | Depth | Length | A & B | C |
|------------|----------|--------|---------|---------|
| 2 1/2 in x | 3 in | 30 in | $20.00 | $12.00 |
| 3 in x | 3 1/4 in | 30 in | 40.00 | 20.00 |

The A and B Grade in Second Growth White Oak Spokes will admit of one-third or less sap timber in sizes 2 x 3 in. and larger. If the spokes are free from all other defects, tough and heavy.

The C grade takes in Spokes that are more than one-third sap timber, but both grades must be split from Second Growth White Oak, showing a good growth. Don't split Brash Timber into Spokes, as we can not use them. Spokes that are brash, also pieces containing worm holes, knots, sun checks and short crooks will be classed as culls.

All Oak Spokes must be 30 in. long. For further particulars call on or address, THE ADAIR SPOKE CO., Columbia, Ky.

E. G. Wethington, Mgr.

For the first few weeks we will receive spokes only four days in the week Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

J. F. Pendleton, of Greensburg, was in the community the first of the week receiving cattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Nelson, of Greensburg, visited their relatives in this community several days of last week.

Mr. Thos. Dowell, one of our best business men, spent last Monday in Greensburg on business.

Eld. Z. T. Williams, of Columbia, called in to see us on his return from Summershade Friday. He reports a fine meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Keltner of Campbellsville, spent a few days here the first of the week visiting their relatives.

Mr. Strong Hill lost last week a saddle mare that he appraised very high.

Miss Nellie Tarter, of Columbia, is visiting her relatives in this community at this time.

James, the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Moss, was on the sick list a few days of last week.

Luther Willis sold last week a nice bunch of cattle to Pendleton & Hobson, of Greensburg.

Quite a number of commercial men were calling on our merchants last week. We take it that they all did a good business.

The Adair County Spoke Co., will close up their last years stock of timber in a few days and we understand they will be on the market again for more timber.

The tobacco crop is about all cut in this section of the county and we are glad to say that it is the best that has been grown in this part of Adair in years, both in quantity and quality. The farmers like Ed Whitlock, Luther Willis and Allen Keltner grew large fields of the weed and of the finest kind. Many other farmers we could mention have the quality but not the quantity.

Born, to the wife of Will Baker, on the 2nd, a son.

Born, to the wife of Elmer Franklin, on the 2nd, a daughter.

Mrs. Julia Baker, who has been visiting in Green and Taylor counties for the past three months, returned home a few days ago. She reports a fine visit.

Our old friend, John Pickett, of Campbellsville, called to see us one day last week, while visiting his father and mother, near this place. He reports business good and everything moving along nicely.

Mrs. John S. Moore and Mr. S. A. Harper, two of our oldest citizens, died on the 29th, with a complication of troubles. They were members of the Baptist and Methodist churches. Their funerals were preached by Rev. Payne, of the Methodist church, at Big Creek church, before a large audience. Their remains were interred in the family cemetery.

The Cotton Situation.

The South has just marketed the most profitable crop of its history, receiving on average of $63 a bale and securing over a thousand million dollars.

Six hundred millions of dollars was the export value of this crop and six hundred millions of dollars exceeds the trade balance of the United States with Europe.

The South has planted, cultivated and brought to fruition the crop of 1914, which is larger than that of 1913.

But unfortunately the commercial world has been shaken by the European war. Exchange money, credit, capital are thrown out of their normal relations at the very time when the South is marketing its crop that has cost it, according to estimates in Texas, 9 1/2 cents, and elsewhere 9 cents.

On an average 22 per cent. of the cotton crop is ginned by September 25. Last year, by October 18, 49.9 per cent. was ginned; in 1906, only 38 per cent. on that date.

November 1, 1913, 63 per cent. of the crop was ginned and in 1906 53 per cent.

November 14, last year, 74.7 per cent. of the crop was ginned and that may be considered the average for that date. By January 1, 65 per cent. of the crop was ginned.

These figures give little margin for breathing spell. Time will do much to reduce the disturbance of war. The ingenuity of the commercial classes is great, and their power of adaptation is one of their distinguishing traits. If we had time to consider carefully the plans for the protection of this crop, those plans could be devised and executed; but there is little time, as these figures show.

Putting cotton warehouse receipts upon the basis of bonds has done much to give value to the cotton crop. It has, so to speak, mobilized one of the chief elements of commerce, made it possible for the banks, without risk, to co-operate with the cotton producers, the cotton factors and the cotton merchants in handling this crop.

The low price of cotton has choked the ginning and for several weeks it checked the picking. It costs, by a rough estimate, something like 3 cents to pick cotton. If it is to be sold for 6 cent, a good part of it will not be picked.

But a change has already come over the situation. The "Buy a Bale" movement has had a direct effect of great importance. It has had a moral effect of even greater importance. It is a recognition of the solidarity of Southern commercial interests. It is a proclamation to the farmers that they are standing alone, but that the country is with them and will co-operate with them in every way in protecting the value of their property.—Louisville Post.

Pertinent Philosophy.

Generally speaking, an efficient public utility is one that is making good money on the investment.

Our town is so old-fashioned in its way that Tank Beverly's habit of reading and smoking in bed has caused him to be regarded as a good deal of a "rounder."

There is much controversy over the case of the Kansas woman who recently was fined $14.80 for whipping a man. Eph Wiley says that, while the fine may have been exorbitant, he doubts whether the amusement of whipping a man should be entirely free.

The married woman who says to a bride, "I hope you will be as happy as I am," deceives nobody but the bride.

Bowels are Basis of Child Health

The careful mother, who watches closely the physical peculiarities of her children, will soon discover that the most important thing in connection with child's constant good health is to keep the bowels regularly open. Sluggish bowels will be followed by loss of appetite, restlessness during sleep, irritability and a dozen and one similar evidences of physical disorder.

At the first sign of such disorder give the child a teaspoonful of Dr. C. W. Well's Syrup Pepsin at night on retiring and repeat the dose the following night if necessary—more than that will scarcely be needed. You will find that the child will recover its accustomed good spirits at once and will eat and sleep normally. This remedy is a vast improvement over salts, cathartics, laxative waters and similar things, which are altogether too powerful for a child. The homes of Mrs. Carrie McDonald, 1036 Trigg Ave., Memphis, Tenn., and Mrs. Sallie E. Griffith, Vreeland, Ky., are always supplied with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and with them, as with thousands of others, there is no substitute for this grand laxative. It is really more than a laxative, for it contains superior tonic properties which help to tone and strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels so that after a brief use of it all laxatives can be dispensed with and nature will do its own work.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

Famous Flagpole.

One of the most famous flag-staffs in the world has been taken down. It was the Kew Gardens flagstaff, London, reputed to be the tallest in the Old World. Its height was 150 feet. Experts will have to decide whether it can be re-erected. For over 50 years it has been a landmark in Kew Gardens, and on the death of a reigning sovereign and the coronation of his successor it has borne a specially large royal standard sent down by the Board of Admiralty. This year when it came to be examined by the men who are hauled to its giddy height by ropes, it was found to have so many weak places that it was deemed advisable to lower it to the ground, and this has just been done. The spar is a remarkably fine specimen of a Douglas fir, and was sent to Kew Gardens by Edward Grey, a timber merchant in the Canadian trade, in 1861. It came from Vancouver Island, and was then 250 years old.

Avoid Sedative Cough Medicines.

If you want to contribute directly to the occurrence of capillary bronchitis and pneumonia use cough medicines that contain codeine, morphine, heroin and other sedatives when you have a cough or cold. Any expectorant like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is what is needed. That cleans out the culture beds or breeding places for the germs of pneumonia and other germ diseases. That is why pneumonia never results from a cold when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. It has a world wide reputation for its cures. It contains no morphine or other sedative. Making Echoes.

Did you know that echoes could be made to order?

In the past men built their great temples and cathedrals with no thought of acoustics. Hence, when the preacher preached, echoes rolled freely amid the groinings of the roof, down the rows of sculptured columns, and round and round the nave.

With wires strung here and with tapestries spread there, many of the echoes of the old-world buildings have been obliterated. There are echo experts—builders acquainted with the science of acoustics, whose speciality is echoes' destruction. Sometimes their tasks are hard.

To day an architect takes thought of the echo. His building is constructed so as to exclude this intruder. And, knowing how to exclude it, he knows how to welcome it also.

Architects are frequently called upon in landscape work to put up summer houses and arrange rocks around them so as to create an echo there. And this they can satisfactorily do.

They Make You Feel Good.

Babies go to Church.

Way up North, in Lapland, it is the custom for mothers to take their babies to church. Sometimes they ride 10 or 15 miles in a sleigh drawn by a reindeer. They all have warm clothes on, the baby in particular. Oftentimes it is wrapped in bearskins.

As soon as the family arrives at the little church and the reindeer is secured, Father Lapp shovels a snug little bed of snow, and Mother Lapp wraps baby snugly in skins, and lays it down there. Then Father Lapp piles the snow all around it, and the parents go into the church.

Over 20 or 30 of these babies lie out there in the snow around the church, and I never heard of one that was suffocated or frozen. The snow does not make them cold; for when it covers a person all over, if he has clothing enough so that it will not melt and wet him, it will keep him warm. The little babies are not strong enough to knock the snow aside and get away, so they just lie still there, and go to sleep.

When church is out the father goes to where the baby is, and puts his hands down into the snow; then the reindeer trots off a good deal faster than a horse and takes them all home again.

Chronic Dyspepsia.

The following unsolicited testimonial should certainly be sufficient to give hope and courage to persons afflicted with chronic dyspepsia: "I have been a chronic dyspeptic for years, and of all the medicine I have taken, Chamberlain's Tablets have done me more good than anything else," says W. G. Mattison, No. 7, Sherman St., Hornellsville, N. Y. For sale by Paull Drug Co.

Looks Good for the Farmers.

The Paducah News-Democrat says: "There is not an acre in Kentucky that won't double in value in the next five years, due mostly to the European war," was the highly optimistic remark of Dr. Fred Mutchler, State agent of farm demonstration work, to a group of men at the Board of Trade rooms on the fourth floor of the Paducah City National Bank building. In Dr. Mutchler's opinion, the European conflagration has given the American farmer the grandest opportunity of his life. He says that the farmers of the United States will be called upon to feed the world for the next three years, and the thinking ones who realize and grasp this opportunity are going to gather in the benefits. "I have a 258-acre farm in Warren county, on which I expect to make $25,000 in the next three years," he says. "I am going to make it off of live stock."

There is no money in cropping; you have to feed it to get all out of the land that is possible."

To put an old phrase to good use once more, the Wilson administration is best judged by the enemies it has made.

Births and Deaths in Air.

The International congress for the codification of laws regulating marriages, births and deaths on board aerial craft, which has finished its labors in Geneva, has formulated a definite recommendation only in the case of a death taking place in the air. It recommends that the pilot in charge shall be legally bound to declare the fact to the authorities at his nearest stopping place, or, if traveling in a foreign country to the nearest consul. Though it is admitted that the question of aerial marriages is not of pressing importance, it is pointed out that the precedent for a birth in the air was established during the Paris exhibition in 1878, when a child was born in a captive balloon 1,000 feet up.

A Marvelous Escape.

"My little boy had a marvelous escape," writes P. F. Bastians, of Prince Albert, Cape of Good Hope. "It occurred in the middle of the night. He got a very severe attack of croup. As luck would have it, I had a large bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. After following the directions for an hour and twenty minutes he was through all danger." She Was Some Mourner.

Down in Georgia a negro who had his life insured for several hundred dollars, died and left the money to his widow. She immediately bought herself a very elaborate mourning suit.

Showing her purchase to her friend, she was very particular about going into details as to prices and all incidental particulars. Her friend was very much impressed and remarked:

"Them sho is fine clocs, but for heavins sake what is yo' goin' to do wif all dis black underwear?"

The bereaved one sighed, "Chile, when I mourns, I mourns."

A store run without profit, selling goods at cost, in which the saleswomen receive no wages and the customers are owners of the stock in trade, has been opened at the Sohocksink settlement house, near Philadelphia. It signals the opening of a campaign against the high cost of foods waged by more than 100 families in the neighborhood through co-operation in buying. The sales, which are held on Fridays and Saturdays, are managed by women who are partners in the movement. Each customer buys at exactly the cost price, there being nothing added in middlemen's profits, rental or selling expenses. On the opening day meats, coffee and tea were sold much below the prevailing market prices.

SUMMARY OF WAR NEWS.

Slight advances by both wings of the allied armies are indicated in an official statement issued by the French War Office at 2:45 o'clock this afternoon. At the same time the general situation is described as unchanged.

"We have nevertheless," says the statement, "made progress on our left to the north of Somme and on our right in the Southern Woever district."

The brief announcement from Paris affords the only light from official sources thrown on the great struggle in Northern France to-day. London and Berlin were still silent in the late afternoon, and what unofficial reports reached this country by way of the capitals of the belligerents contained little to indicate the course of events on the different battlefields. Not before since the war began has the censorship been so severe.

The latest Berlin announcement made last night said that the Allies had been repulsed at Albert, eighteen miles northeast of Amiens and that the German attack in Argonne was progressing steadily though slowly.

The most recent word from the Belgian War Office also given out last night stated that the Belgians were successfully repulsing the attack of the Germans on Antwerp.

Fighting in the Far East has begun in earnest with an attack by the German warships on the land positions of the Japanese, who are besieging Tsing Tau in furtherance of their campaign against the district of Kiau Chau in China. The refusal of Germany to withdraw from this leased possession caused Japan to declare war.

An official statement issued at Tokio to-day says that Japanese siege guns sunk a German torpedo boat destroyer while a Japanese mine sweeper was sunk off the harbor and a Japanese supply ship damaged. The somewhat vague Japanese statement gives the impression that the battle continues without definite result thus far.

Nothing is made known of the progress of the fighting in the eastern theater of war to-day. A news dispatch from Petrograd under yesterday's date says that a German squadron bombarded Windau, a Russian seaport in the Baltic, on September 24. The forts replied to the fire of the ships which, after destroying the lighthouse, withdrew.

Gen. von Auffenburg, commander of the First Australian Army, is reported ill with cholera at Vienna.

News dispatcher from Switzerland state that Austria is confronted with a serious shortage of food supplies.

A correspondent at Paris referring to the events of yesterday says that the Germans continue a fierce attack on the Allies in the angle formed by the rivers Oise and Aisne in the direction of Tracy-le-Mont. Yesterday's statement by the French War Office said that the Germans were repulsed at Tracy-le-Mont.

A French national committee is appealing for winter clothing for the troops, declaring that a long campaign in cold weather is a possibility.

France has revived the office of Field Marshal of France.

British revenues for the first half of the fiscal year ending yesterday fell off $13,500,000 while expenditures were increased by nearly $230,000,000.

Austria has replied to the protest of Italy expressing regret that Austrian mines in the Adriatic have destroyed Italian fishing boats and promised compensation and greater care regarding these mines. It is reported that Italy demands an indemnity of $1,000,000.

The thirty-eighth German casualty list published recently contains the names of 8,000 officers and men killed, wounded or missing.

TROOPS CAMP ON EMPEROR WILLIAM'S ESTATE.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Col. Golejewski, military attache of the Russian embassy, to-day issued the following official report from Petrograd:

"On September 28, after stubborn fighting, our troops have captured the German positions at Awgustowo and Kopetz. On September 29 we took the defiles between the lakes at Simno Sereje and Lejpuny.

"The Germans have been driven back into the region between Suwalki, Sejny and Marianopol. Our advance continues. German siege artillery continues the bombardment of Ossowjetz, but without success. At Schutckin and at Andrejew only unimportant skirmishes are reported."

Rome, Oct. 1.—Thirty-one German troop ships, escorted by seven warships, have unsuccessfully attempted a landing near Windau, on the Baltic Sea.

More than 3,500,000 Russian troops are now actively engaged in the campaign against Austria and Germany, according to dispatches received here.

BELGIANS MAKE HEROIC DEFENSE AGAINST BESIEGERS AT ANTWERP.

London, Oct. 1.—The Germans have demanded the surrender of Antwerp. The demand has been refused.

London, Oct. 1, (2:10, a. m.)—An official communication issued at Antwerp, according to a dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company, says:

"The German artillery during the day continued the bombardment of the first line of forts on the south. Our works suffered little and we are still in condition to make effective resistance."

"Between the Senne river and Reeth no movement of the enemy's infantry has occurred. In the circle from the Scheldt to the Senne daring and violent German attacks have been repelled by the Belgians, who were well supported by their artillery. The German losses were proportionate to the temerity of their attacks.

"In the direction of Termonde the offensive movement was of no great importance, consisting of a long distance cannonade, which had no appreciable effect on the detachments of our troops guarding the approaches to the town. Between the rivers Dendre and Scheldt there is no notable change.

"In short, the German bombardment has produced no results commensurate with its violence. The morale of our troops remain excellent and their coolness is admirable, as proved by the successful resistance of all German infantry attacks."

INDIA SENDS 70,000 VETERANS TO FRONT.

Paris, Oct. 1 (2:35 p. m.)—The following official communication was given out here this afternoon:

"There has been no modification in the general situation. We have, nevertheless, made progress on our left, to the north of the Somme, and on our right, in the Southern Woever district.

Paris, Oct. 1.—Seventy thousand Hindu troops have re-enforced the allied army and are now taking part in the decisive phase of the great battle of the Aisne. Although these troops arrived on Tuesday, it was not until to-day that the censor would allow the fact to be made known.

The 70,000 Hindu soldiers, who were brought into the war zone through the port of Marseilles, comprise the flower of the forces of the British Empire's great colonial possession.

The French and British are keeping up vigorous offensive movements on both flanks, the arrival of fresh troops enabling them to relieve some of the men who had been under fire most of the time since the engagement began on September 12.

Although the German soldiers are making counter attacks along the line, the extreme exhaustion of the invaders is shown by lack of the vigor which characterized their earlier offensive movements.

It is reported that Gen. Von Kluck has been forced to order the retirement of a heavy section of his army because of the physical inability of the soldiers to meet the violent assaults of the fresher soldiers of the allied army.

GERMANS AND JAPANESE IN SEVERE ENGAGEMENT.

Tokio, Oct. 1, (1:50, p. m.)—A severe engagement has been opened by the German warships which cannonaded the Japanese positions near Tsing Tau, east of the Government of Kiau Chau, the German leased territory in China. Two officers were killed. German aeroplanes assisted the warship.

The Japanese War Office announces that an artillery duel at Tsing Tau continues. A German torpedo boat destroyer sank in the harbor yesterday (Wenestay.) Apparently this ship was not in action. From other sources it is stated that the German destroyer was sunk by Japanese siege guns.

It was officially announced late this afternoon that a Japanese mine sweeper off Kiau Chau was blown up and sunk. Three men were killed and thirteen others wounded. Another Japanese mine sweeper was damaged, one man being killed and six injured.

Another Japanese vessel, the supply ship Wakamiya Maru, was damaged. One man on board was killed and six were injured. The name of the mine sweeper which went down was Nagat Maru.

Rugby.

Several from here attended the funeral of Mr. Clayton Bell, at Edmonton, last Friday.

The box supper at Rowe Town was well attended, but only a few boxes brought. They sold for $6.00, which brought 30 volumes for our library. We will have another one the second Saturday night in October. Everybody invited. $1.00 prize to the one that brings the prettiest box.

Mrs. Flora Rosson is visiting her father, W. S. Pickett, at Pyrus, this week.

The moonlight school taught by Noah Loy, at Red Lick, was success. From 50 to 200 every night in attendance, and the district is greatly benefitted. We hope he will win the prize.

Mr. Jim Fudge bought a good mare mule last Monday for $47.50.

Miss Launah Janes made a second class certificate and Mr. Muncie Coomer made a first class certificate in this last examination.

People will soon be through saving feed and cutting tobacco.

The American Policy.

The peaceful settlement of the Dominican revolution is another demonstration of the prudent and helpful policy of the President in American foreign affairs.

President Wilson did not invent this American foreign policy. President Roosevelt put it in operation over the finances of Santo Domingo and President Taft over the political government of Nicaragua. But Mr. Wilson demonstrated it upon a conspicuous scale in Mexico in the face of strong opposition abroad and criticism at home, and proclaimed it to the world in a public address as historic as A Man of Peace.

At a time like the present when the nations of Europe are rushing at each other's throats, and humanity stands aghast at the thoughts of the impending conflict, when the spirit of militarism pervades the Old World, and the powers are determined upon slaughter, it is fortunate for the United States that there is at the head of the National Government a man of peace with strength of character and force of intellect. Happily, no imitation of war lord sits in the White House. The course which this country must follow is straight and definite. It must maintain strict neutrality, and avoid the slightest appearance of favor toward one of the belligerents as against another. It is the friend of each and all of them and must so remain.—The Waterville (Me.) Sentinel.

The sure way to get things done is to go and do them; so when it began to appear that private capital would not finance American steamship lines to carry American commerce, the President promptly set about buying some.

Our President.

Woodrow Wilson stands today as the only man on earth exercising power outside his own country. In more than a figurative sense he is the temporary ruler of the world. All hope of the restoration of peace, sooner or later, must rest with him.

Meanwhile, the preservation of neutrality by America, the conciliation of Mexico, the succor of all the nations of the earth devolve upon this country. This prestige must be maintained and this power exercised by the Chief Magistrate.

We believe that Woodrow Wilson is equal to the emergency, but his burdens are heavy and his personal and public trials grievous to be borne. He needs help. He needs the help which every loyal heart in America can render him to a greater or lesser degree.

Call the expression of this help prayers, or good wishes, or sympathy, or what you will, it is a vital force.

No true American in youth or age ought to withhold this aid to the President.—The Santa Cruz Surf.

"Honest" John.

George Carter, a very just man carrying on business in a small village, found it necessary one day to leave his establishment to the sole charge of John, his assistant, and, as usual, thinking it necessary to impress upon him the necessity of dealing fairly by his customers, left him with these words:

"Well, John, if ever in doubt, quote a text to yourself, and you will find great help from it in your dealings."

He had not been gone long before a lady walked into the shop, and asked to see some shawls.

John, pulling one out from under the counter, asked her how she liked it, stating that the price was $2. It was a very nice one, but she, being able to afford better, asked to see others.

John, ready as ever, fetched another out of the same box, and spreading this out on the counter stated the price to be $3.50. Still she was not satisfied, so, fetching another one, also out of the same box, he asked her how she would like that at $5.

The lady was "pleased, and would have that one."

John, flushed with his success, on his master's return told him all.

His master was very angry, and asked him what Scripture quotation could have been in his mind when he cheated the lady that morning.

John brightened at this, and with full importance, replied: "She was a stranger and I took her in."
